Ropes Stretched Around the Old Eastman, Schleicher & Lee Building.

A portion of the Eastman, Schleicher & Lee walls, on Washington street, fell yesterday afternoon, and the report was circulated that a man had been caught under it. An investigation by the police, however, proved the rumor false. Ropes were immediately stretched around the front of the building, as the front wall was tottering, and at intervals great chunks of brick and morter would fall to the sidewalk. There was much criticism heard because the burned walls have not been pulled down.

COLBERT IN CHARGE

TO ENFORCE SALOON LAWS AS RIG-OROUSLY AS MR. POWELL.

Kid Gloves, $1, for new lot just opened in New Board of Safety Organizes-Works Board Not Yet Appointed -Municipal Gossip.

The new board of Safety-Messrs, Maguire, Mack and Morse-organized yesterday morning, very early, and confirmed the appointments decided on the night before. Thomas F. Colbert, who has been employed by the Indianapolis Brewing Company, was named as superintendent of police, and within a few hours Mr. Colbert appeared on the streets driving the spir-Men's fine Natural Wool Underwear, $1 | ited horse which had been at the service of Superintendent Powell during the last two years. All Mr. Colbert had to say when his appointment was officially announced was: "All right, gentlemen; I will do my duty." In organizing, Mr. Maguire was chosen as president of the board. Colbert's appointment was made on motion of Mr. Morse, the Republican member. Fire Chief Webster, who was present at the meeting, was informed that he was to be retained at the head of the fire force, which information was not in the nature of news to him. Richard Herrick was assured that he was to remain as clerk of the board. He smiled. He knew this weeks

The new board makes a change in regard to the time of holding meetings. Hereafter the members will gather in the evening at 7:30 o'clock, on the first and third Wednesdays of the month, instead of in the morning on the first and third Mondays.

Applications began to pour into the safety board's office yesterday, but not with the rapidity of two years ago. Ex-Sheriff Ike King is reported as boasting a few days ago of a list of Republicans that would have to go, particularly men on the fire force. Mayor Taggart was asked yesterday if changes were to be made rapidly. "The new board will determine as to any changes to be made," he replied. "The ef-And thousands of dollars' worth of ficiency of the force will not be impaired paid by removing Republicans from either the police or fire departments. Men who are qualified are to remain in the departments. There will no doubt be some changes of men who are not properly qualified to be members of the department, but by that I do not mean men who have been injured in the discharge of their duties. Men are not to be removed because they are Republicans, no matter if they have been strong

Superintendent of Police Colbert surprised some of his friends yesterday when he was quoted as follows concerning an enforcement of the saloon and liquor laws:

"Not a gambling house shall be left in Indianapolis. I shall hunt down the gamblers as the lion is hunted in the jungles. There will be no rest for them until they

There will be no rest for them until they leave the city or quit the business."

"What will be your policy respecting violations of the liquor laws?"

"They shall be enforced without fear or favor. The enforcement shall be more prononunced, if anything, than under Mr. Powell. My instructions and my own inclinations go together in these things."

"Are there any winks or hints at a string or pull-back or secret instructions which will alter the force of what you say?"

"None whatever. There is no string tied to me. I have been made responsible for the enforcement of the laws. My office and my instructions point out this course and I shall follow it. If it be possible to say any more distinctly than I have said that the laws are to be enforced I want to go on laws are to be enforced I want to go on record as having said it. I know that some will not believe this, but our acts must prove that we mean it."

AT THE POLICE STATION.

What the Members of the Board and Superintendent Said to the Force. Thomas F. Colbert took formal charge of the police force last night at the 6:30 o'clock roll call. Both the day and night forces, together with the detectives, met in the roll call room, and Mayor Taggart, the members of the Board of Safety and Superintendent Colbert were present. Mayor Plush Capes Thibet trimmed ...... $5.00 | Taggart was introduced to the members of the force by Richard Herrick, clerk of the board. He spoke briefly, complimenting the force and stating that it is the desire of the board to make the Indianapolis force the most efficient in the country. He said that he hoped all the men would prove as faithful to duty in the future as they had in the past. In closing he introduced Charles Maguire, president of the Board of Safety.

Mr. Maguire spoke the words which brought comfort to many of the men present, for he stated that the board contemplated no changes in the present force. He said that the force as it now exists is efficient and there is no desire to alter it. T. J. Morse, the Republican member of the board, made a few remarks com-mending the police officers and indorsing what had been said. F. J. Mack, the third member of the board, was not present until after the meeting, having misunder-stood the meeting hour.

Superintendent Colbert was presented to the force by Mr. Maguire. The prospects of again meeting the members of the police force, many of whom served under him as chief of police before, overwhelmed Mr. Colbert and he was unable to say much. chair, and for a minute found nothing to

Then followed a long pause, when Mr. Colbert again resumed. "All the laws are to be enforced to the letter," said he, "both the liquor and gambling laws are to be enforced; they have to be enforced. That's about all. (Long pause.) I haven't anything more to say now." Another pause followed this and then the superintendent

The members of the board and the Mayor were shown over the police station and then departed. Superintendent Colbert retired to his private office and was followed by about fifteen "friends," who wanted to speak a good work for some one, or to make an objection to some member of the force being retained, but Mr. Colbert was not feeling like meeting these petitioners and quietly slipped down the back stairs to where his buggy was waiting, and with a friend drove away.

It is impossible to describe the feeling over the appointment of Colbert to the over the appointment of Colbert to the superintendency. There was a feeling of general disgust among certain of the poli-ticians at the Grand Hotel last night. Martin Murphy was not satisfied. "Jim" Keach had "nothin' to say." Robert Emmett was indignant. Those Democratic officials connected with the government offices who backed Wilson McGinnis were disgusted, and general dissatisfaction reigned. Col-bert, however, has many friends, chief among whom is Albert Lieber, and they have been loyal to him.

The "gang" is making it extremely un-comfortable for Captain Quigley, and the men against him are good recommendations for his efficiency. Yesterday a letter was being shown which bore the name of George W. Powell, stating that Captain Quigley was an efficient officer; that he had during the last two years obeyed the orders of the department to the letter, and if the Captain had made any mistakes they were mis-takes of the department. Yesterday Captakes of the department. Testerday Cap-tain Quigley was giver to understand that he need have little fear, but the "gang" continues to cry for his scalp. Captain Quigley has had several prominent Demo-crats speak to the board members in his

Regarding the policy of the new board, the statement made by Mr. Mack, when he said "he believed with Mr. Taggart that the laws should be enforced with reason," is generally considered as significant. The saloon keepers and gamblers are keeping close to the Democrats in touch with the administration, endeavoring to ascertain what the policy is to be. By them it is understood that the administration is to start forward strong for law and order, but after a month or so there is to be a let-up. Mr. Taggart, however, and at least one member of the safety board, declare that there shall be no let-up in the enforcement of the law, and the positive manner in which these gentlemen make their assertions is causing the would-be lawbreakers no little uneasiness. One noticeable effect of the change of administration is found in the number of disreputable resorts starting up. A real estate man said yesterday that he had six applications for houses for disreputable purposes during the day. Two or three of these women wanted houses in respectable neighborhoods. Under Mr. Denny many of these places were closed and the inmates

ELECTION OFFICERS' PAY.

Controller Johnson Will Follow Decision of Judge Brown.

The claims of the election officers have not all reached Controller Johnson and postal cards have been sent out to rush them along. At the meeting of the inspectors a resolution was passed allowing inspectors five days' pay each. Two years ago Mr. Trusler refused to allow the inspectors five days' pay, as he held that the law did not allow that much, the law contemplating only the number of calendar days served and not days of eight hours each. A test case was carried to the Circuit Court, and Judge Brown sustained the controller as to his construction of the law.

Controller Johnson was asked yesterday what action he would take in the claims for five days' pay. He said he could pursue but one course, and that was to follow the law as it had been construed by the court. It was recognized by both parties, he said, that $2 was very small pay for a day of eighteen or twenty hours, but the Legislature was the only body that could remedy this.

GRAVEL ON ILLINOIS STREET.

Works Board Resolution for Improvement North of Twelfth. At its session Thursday the Board of Works adopted resolutions for grading and graveling Illinois street, from the first alley north of Twelfth to Fourteenth street. This also includes a fill of the State ditch. Several property owners who wanted the street from Seventh street north to the creek asphalted object to the temporary improvement. It is explained at the Board of Works office, however, that the portion of the street to which the resolution applies is quite low and needs to be filled up. The resolution calls for sixty-two one-hundredths of a foot fill and fifteen inches of gravel on top of that gravel on top of that.

There has been considerable complaint of the manner in which Twelfth street has been graveled. The gravel stretch crosses three asphalt streets, and, as the gravel is piled several feet higher than the grade of these streets, vehicles passing over the street drag the loose gravel out on to the asphalt. A heavy roller would do much to improve the condition of Twelfth street.

THE CITY ATTORNEYSHIP.

It Is an Even Struggle Between Kern

The city attorneyship is a bone of contention in the Democratic ranks, the fight for the place narrowing down to Capt. James B. Curtis and John W. Kern. Curtis's friends are insisting that his work as chairman entitles him to the place, and they also add that Kern has, besides holding office as reporter of the Supreme Court and a State senatorship, been the recipient of much lucrative law business from Democratic administrations. It is also insisted that he should be content with being the Democratic nominee for Congress next year. Curtis, it is claimed, has had but little compensation for his work. Willard Robertson, who was secretary of the Democratic city committee, wants to be assistant to the city attorney. Fred Cady also wants the place.

JUDGE COX'S FIRST CASE. An Employe of Democratic City Committee Released. Police Judge Cox took up his work in Police Court in true Democratic fashion. The first case was that of Nicholas Hoffbauer, for selling liquor on Sunday. It was Edward Beard, an employe of the Democratic city committee, was before the court on the complaint of the officials of the Union Station, who charged him with causing a disturbance at the station at a time when it was full of women and children. Cox did not seem to think the offense very grievous. The prisoner was merely jollify-ing over the election, perhaps. So Beard was dismissed, and the officials went away with a peculiar impression of the first ad-ministration of justice in the new court.

CUSTODIAN KIEFER DISMISSED. Park Board Makes a Change in University Park.

The Board of Park Commissioners yester time took out some stock in the association and secured a loan; he afterward transferred it by sale to another party, so day dismissed Lewis Kiefer, who has been custodian of University Park at a salary of $60 a month. In his stead Julius Kitzing, who was taken from the civil-service list, was appointed. None of the members of the board were personally acquainted with Kitzing, but he was recommended highly.

a bad effect on him." The Irishman Didn't Understand. During a heated political campaign he was aboard a crowded street-car in the south part of town when a friend hailed him with the

"How are you getting along with the A P. A.," referring to his press association, "Swimmingly," replied McClevey.
"We'll nail that mon," significantly remarked an Irishman to a friend as Mc-Clevey got off the car.

Board of Works Not Named.
